Abstract

Based on an automatic gain factor derived from a long term peak value sample is a frame of a received signal containing speech are adjusted to enhance intelligibility. A dynamic range compression algorithm may also be used to further enhance intelligibility.